Bring Your MP to School Day 2016

in celebration of National Child Day

ABOUT NATIONAL CHILD DAY

National Child Day has been celebrated in Canada since it was officially declared with the Child Day Act in 1993 to commemorate the UN Declaration on the Rights of the Child and the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child. The day coincides with Universal Children's Day, proclaimed by the United Nations General Assembly in 1954 to encourage all countries to institute a day to promote mutual exchange and understanding among children and to take action to promote the well-being of the world's children. In addition to UNICEF Canada's efforts to promote National Child Day, it is celebrated widely across the country and promoted by civil society organizations and various levels of government. ABOUT UNICEF CANADA'S "BRING YOUR MP TO SCHOOL DAY"

UNICEF Canada launched "Bring Your MP to School Day" in 2012, allowing children's voices, concerns and interests to enjoy meaningful attention from parliamentarians. The link between Members of Parliament and their constituents is at the core of the representative function of parliament. Engaging with children and youth – generally a quarter of the population – helps inform decisions that affect this vulnerable but non-voting population, and advances the civic education of Canada's youngest citizens.
