STUCK IN THE MIDDLE THE

The story of Canada in Report Card 11 is one of a country stuck in the middle.

The League Table of Child Well-being ranks 29 affluent nations on an average of 26 indicators across five dimensions: Material Well-being, Health and Safety, Education, Behaviours and Risks, and Housing and Environment. Canada has a middle rank in the League Table of Child Well-being, and this position has not budged since we last measured it a decade ago.

What are children saying?

Canada's ranking drops by seven places (to number 24) when children's views of their life satisfaction are taken into account. It is also a concern that this level has fallen over the past decade.

Did you know?

Canada was the first country to introduce a survey of early childhood development indicators.

Put children first!

Child well-being can be influenced by policy choices, and in order to do that, the Canadian government needs to:

- Provide information on how much money is being spent on children
- Publish regular state-of-children reports to identify progress and emerging concerns
- Ensure the rights of children are prioritized in policy decisions
- Establish a National Children's Commissioner

Join UNICEF Canada to improve the well-being of Canadian children. Learn about the issues by reading UNICEF Report Card 11: Child Well-Being in Rich Countries and ask your MP to put children first.
